TREASURER—W. H. Thompson.

SECRETARY—W. B. Stevens.

BUREAU OF INFORMATION.—Administration Building, World's Fair Grounds.

LARGEST EXPOSITION EVER HELD.—The Louisiana Purchase Exposition or World's Fair, at St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A., is in all respects the greatest ever undertaken in any country. All States and countries, all cities and manufacturing centers, all professions and creeds, all arts and sciences, all callings and occupations contribute to its success. In its broad scope it sweeps the world to gather here the most worthy works of mankind, to be studied and compared, in order that all inquiring minds may note the progress of the world in these first years of the twentieth century.

GREAT HELP FROM TWO PRESIDENTS.—President McKinley was a staunch friend of the World's Fair through all the early work, and contributed his help and encouragement in each important step. President Roosevelt has proven himself no less earnest in his friendship for the World's Fair.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING.—Permanent. Built of Missouri granite and Bedford (Ind.) sandstone. The building is fireproof and contains over fifty large office rooms. Cost $250,000; is one of the group of Washington University buildings, erected at a total cost of more than $1,000,000; all used by the Exposition for administrative and other purposes.

GOVERNMENT BUILDING (U. S.).—This great building is 764 feet long, with central and end pavilions 250 feet long. The building between the pavilions is 175 feet wide. A dome, 93 feet in diameter, is a feature of the roof. Cost $450,000. The Government Ordnance and Fish Pavilions are near by.

VARIED INDUSTRIES PALACE.—The palace has the same proportions as the Palace of Manufactures, 525x 1,200 feet; covering 14 acres. At the corners are domed towers, and the important entrances are lofty and imposing. Cost $604,000.

AGRICULTURAL PALACE.—The building is 500x1,600 feet, with a cornice line 50 feet high. It contains 18 acres of floor space, being the largest exposition building ever erected for a single department. The Palace of Horticulture is a near neighbor on the the south, and the two buildings stand in the midst of a great garden of 69 acres devoted to outdoor exhibits. Cost $529,940.

TRANSPORTATION PALACE—525x1,300 feet. Cost $696,-000. In its 15 acres of exhibit space there are four miles of tracks for the display of locomotives. There are five acres of space for road vehicles and the marine display. One group is devoted to aerial navigation, military ballooning and dirigible airships.

MANUFACTURERS PALACE—525x1,200 feet. Cost $719,-399. The building covers 14 acres. More than 10,-000,000 feet of lumber used in its construction.

MACHINERY PALACE.—525x1,000 feet. Cost $496,597. Contains power plant for Exposition, developing 11,000 horse-power, and transforming 11,000 additional horse-power; total 22,000. Two towers 265 feet high.

ELECTRICITY PALACE.—Never at an exposition has such a magnificent building been set apart for electricity. It is entirely surrounded by lagoons and is reached by bridges. Its shortest side is 450 feet. The two equal sides are 525 feet, and the north front is 750 feet. It covers 7 acres. Cost $399,940.

HORTICULTURAL PALACE.—This beautiful building is 400x800 feet. Cost $228,000. Large conservatories are situated in this structure.

EDUCATION PALACE.—Has the general shape of a keystone, with a northern facade 750 feet in length and a southern facade 450 feet in length. The two equal sides are 525 feet each. The building covers 7 acres of ground. It is the first building solely for educational exhibits ever erected at an international exposition. Cost $335,000.

FORESTRY AND FISHERIES—400x600 feet. Cost $350,-000. The interior is arranged so as to give the visitor an opportunity to view with advantage the living specimens of fish from the various lakes and rivers and the coast of the United States. They will be shown in great glass tanks, lighted from above by looking through the glass sides from darkened passageways.

PRESS BUILDING.—Is a permanent structure, 100x50 feet, resembling in architecture a composite of typical old homestead and public buildings in early days of the Louisiana Territory.

ART PALACES.—Central structure permanent. 348x166 feet. Two additional pavilions, each 204x422 feet. Built of brick and staff. International Hall of Sculpture, 100x150 feet. Cost $1,014,440.

TEMPLE OF FRATERNITY.—100x150 feet; two stories high, with large open court. Cost $75,000. Building contains 40 rooms for separate accommodation of the fraternal societies. The fraternal organizations will show their great strength in a way that will impress the public.

MINES AND METALLURGY PALACE.—Nine acres of exhibit space are here provided for displays of the rich products of mines from the many countries of the world. 525x750 feet. Cost $498,000.

LIVE STOCK PAVILION.—Situated on 3.7 acres wooded track. Cost $100,000. Premiums offered in live stock department, $250,000.

CASCADE GARDENS.—A great Festival Hall, covering 2 acres. From this building two ornamental arms extend 700 feet each way around the crest of the hill above the terraced gardens and terminate in two beautiful restaurant pavilions. By day these gardens will be radiant with the color of many flowers, and at night brilliant electrical effects will reveal their beauty.

HALL OF INTERNATIONL CONGRESS.—It is 257 feet long and 46 feet deep. Extending back from the center is an assembly room, 100 feet long and 41 feet wide. Five large assembly halls, 110x46 feet. Will be used for the International Congress, which will be held in connection with the Exposition.

PHYSICAL CULTURE BUILDING.—This solid structure of Missouri granite is erected for Washington University, but used by the World's Fair for the Physical Culture exhibit and as the headquarters for athletic interests. The building is 94x182 feet.

HOUSE OF HOO-HOO.—The organized lumbermen of the United States for social purposes call themselves "The Concatenated Order of Hoo-Hoos." It is beautifully finished in wood. The membership of the club is 9,999, and the membership fee $9.99. Embraces the lumber industry as well as lumber newspaper men.

MAIN GROUP OF BUILDINGS.—Arranged in form of open fan, the Art Palaces forming the apex at the southwest.

PALACES OF OTHER NATIONS—WORLD'S FAIR.

FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS to be strongly represented. Germany and France to spend over $1,000,000 each; Brazil, $600,000; Great Britain, Mexico, China and Japan, each over $500,000. Other countries to be adequately represented are: Argentine, Austria, Bolivia, Belgium, Ceylon, Columbia, Costa Rica, Canada, Guadeloupe, Greece, Paraguay, Siam, Peru, Persia, Netherlands, Italy, Jamaica, Chile, Cuba, Hayti, Korea, Salvador, Sweden, Santo Domingo, British Honduras, Spain, Rhodesia, West Indies, Russia and others.

SPECIAL EXHIBITS by the governments of Hawaii, Guam, Porto Rico and Tutulia.

THE GREAT GROUP OF FOREIGN BUILDINGS stand in front of the Administration Building, showing a very notable collection of stately buildings, representing many progressive nations. Their official presence thus evidenced will promote feelings of consideration and brotherhood in the minds of thoughtful visitors, and the better knowledge of one another must make surer the peace of the world.

STATE BUILDINGS—WORLD'S FAIR.

All of the States and Territories and Island possessions are being represented at the World's Fair, appropriations in nearly all cases being very liberal. Missouri stands first, with $1,000,000 appropriation; Illinois next, with $262,000; Kansas, $275,000; New York, $350,000; Texas, $200,000; Ohio and several other States in like amount, while a considerable number are spending $100,000 each for buildings and exhibits.

ALABAMA.—Her subscriptions with approriation of $50,000, will see Alabama's resources attractively shown.

ALASKA.—Glittering treasures from the land of the Esquimaux and Klondike gold fields will be shown in interesting array; $50,000 for buildings and exhibits.

ARIZONA.—Will have a charming house at a cost of $25,000; done in mission style, in Spanish-Moorish design, immediately in front of the Chouteau Avenue Railway entrance to the grounds. Total appropriation, $60,000.

ARKANSAS.—The State has a very handsome building, constructed of Arkansas materials. It is three stories high, including a large basement, a large reception hall on second floor, the Governor's reception room, telephone and telegraph offices and a post office. Appropriation, $80,000.

CALIFORNIA.—The great building, a replica of the famous old La Rabida Mission, is located on the hill, overlooking the Agricultural Palace; $255,000 for building and exhibits. A typical '49 mining camp will be reproduced in the "Mining Gulch."

COLORADO.—With her $150,000, will have its beautiful building, erected in Spanish Renaissance. Hives of bees, with their living winged occupants busily engaged in making honey, will be a feature of Colorado's exhibits. Three gold bricks, actually worth $100,000 each, to crown the mineral displays.

CONNECTICUT.—At a cost of $100,000 has erected a replica of the historic Bigourney Mansion at Hartford, said to be the purest type of the Colonial architecture extant. Rare old Colonial furniture, worth its weight in gold, will be among the appointments.

FLORIDA.—With its $100,000, raised by the different Chambers of Commerce throughout the State, has formed an organization to see that Florida's claims are adequately portrayed.

GEORGIA.—With its $50,000 will have her beautiful, unique cottage that differs from its fellows. A State typical of the "New South."

HAWAII.—Their building from the Island Territory will be shown in a manner befitting its importance. Appropriation, $60,000. Under the United States Government this is its first opportunity to make an exhibit of their resources and other evidences of enlightened progress.

IDAHO.—With her $40,000, Idaho will be nicely represented at the World's Fair, with her big crops of cereals, grasses and fruits.

ILLINOIS.—Appropriation $262,000. The style of her beautiful building is French-Renaissance, three stories high, with wings and verandas. Cost $50,000. Exterior work and furnishings cost $60,000. Her display of live stock alone will be equal to that of the entire world at any former International Exposition.

INDIANA.—The State appropriated $150,000, and will have its impressive structure in the shape of a magnificent club house, and will take pride in arranging a "Corn Farm," to portray its wonderful agricultural capabilities.

INDIAN TERRITORY.—With its $50,000, the Territory will have a fine structure, and a tale of great interest will be told at the World's Fair.

IOWA.—$250,000 was subscribed and appropriated for the World's Fair, of this amount $44,000 was used for their building alone, without furnishings or landscape work The building is 125x167 feet. Besides her many other displays, Iowa is giving special attention to the exhibits of education and art. Provision has been made for a large number of children in each superfiscal district to visit the World's Fair with their superintendent. Special days will be assigned.

KANSAS.—A handsome building, constructed on the "Club-House" plan is headquarters for Kansas visitors to the World's Fair. Cost of building, $30,000; full appropriation, $175,000. Kansas is represented in all the principal exhibit departments.

KENTUCKY.—$100,000 is being expended on its exhibits and building, "The New Kentucky Home." The building is 108x138 feet. On the main floor is a reception hall, 56x60 feet, in the center of which is a map of the State, made of marble mosaics. They will also show the Blue Grass State's splendid capabilities.

LOUISIANA.—Appropriation $120,000. The Cabildo, or town house, a reproduction of which the State is erecting at the World's Fair, is prized by the people of the Lower Mississippi Valley on account of its many historical associations. In the Cabildo the transfer of sovereignty of the great Louisiana Territory was performed at New Orleans, December 20, 1803, and for Upper Louisiana, at St. Louis, March 10, 1804. A heroic statue, made of sugar, will be a feature of the universal sugar exhibit. Will also display cotton interests.

MAINE.—Is expending $50,000 to exhibit her great shipbuilding industries; also her lumber and fisheries. One of her exhibits will show her great desirability as a summer resort.

MARYLAND.—Has $25,000 for exhibits. Baltimore, her principal city, will have an exhibit, showing the importance of her oyster trade. Oysters will be shown in artificial beds, the same as in Chesapeake Bay.

MASSACHUSETTS.—$100,000 is being expended for building and exhibits. Their beautiful building is of the Old Colonial style ,with many features that are of historical interest to Massachusetts; 60x80 feet in size. Pre-eminently a manufacturing State, of which a good showing will be made.

MICHIGAN.—Appropriated $100,000, to be expended in exhibits of her unrivaled orchards, her inexhaustible copper mines, her vast pineries and other resources, with which fine displays will be made. Her charming edifice stands above the United States Fisheries Building.

MINNESOTA.—Appropriated $100,000 for her beautiful buildings and rich displays of minerals, and is noted for producing the best wheat in the world—with her fine and healthy summer resorts.

MISSISSIPPI.—Will expend $50,000, and will for the first time make an adequate showing of the resources of one of the Garden States of the Union. Will reproduce at the World's Fair "Beauvoir," home of Jefferson Davis, as her State Pavilion.

MISSOURI.—Has subscribed and appropriated $1,000,000 to be expended in exhibiting the great resources of the State. The State building is 160x312 feet. Features of the interior of the building are the great rotunda, a magnificent staircase, an auditorium, seating 1,000 persons, the Governor's suite and spacious reception rooms. This is the largest appropriation ever made by a single State for an International Exposition. The Missouri mule will play an active part.

MONTANA.—With her $125,000, will have a massive Doric structure, with its burnished copper dome, and will reveal the State's mineral wealth—gold, silver, copper and iron and the sapphires, rubies, topaz and other precious stones will play a prominent part.

NEBRASKA.—Expended $70,000 to make its fine exhibits. It will have a proud-looking structure opposite the Oklahoma building. The Museum of the State University will contribute exhibits of great interest.

NEW JERSEY.—Appropriated $100,000, and will reproduce General Washington's headquarters at Morristown, and shows the State's importance in the commercial world.

NEW MEXICO.—With her $30,000 appropriation, will make a big show, with her $8,000,000 worth of bullion every year, and her 3,700,000 sheep, producing 20,000,000 pounds of wool annually.

NEW YORK.—$350,000 will be expended on the building and exhibits of the Empire State, and New York City will be prominently represented at the World's Fair.

NEVADA.—Will have her $20,000 "Bingalow" and exhibits on the hillside, next to Rhode Island, and will show how mercury, arsenic, borax and sulphur are mined, as well as gold, silver and copper. Agricultural exhibits will not be neglected.

NORTH CAROLINA.—With her $75,000, will take a prominent part in the universal tobacco exhibit, and will also show how she has developed into one of the first among cotton manufacturing States.

NORTH DAKOTA.—With her $50,000 will exhibit specimens of wheat and corn ,together with figures showing how the State could feed the Union.

OHIO.—Appropriated $75,000 for the World's Fair exhibits and to build the beautiful club house. Ohio ranks second in the pertroleum industry, third in the production of coal, and makes one-fourth of the agricultural implements made in the country.

OKLAHOMA.—With a $60,000 appropriation for building and exhibits, Oklahoma is putting up a building worthy of its postiion, made in Spanish design, costing $20,000, and will show the products of her soil in fine displays of cotton, corn and wheat.

OREGON.—With her $100,000 and beautiful building, will make an exhibit that will attract much attention, with her big pineries and large fisheries and her fruit that never knew worms or insects.

PENNSYLVANIA.—Has $300,000 to spend in showing her great resources of wealth, and directly opposite Connecticut will appear the great Pennsylvania building, containing the nation's most revered historic relic—the Liberty Bell. The State will be second only to Missouri in the size of its building, and her contribution to the mines department is full of interest.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.—$1,000,000 to be used in buildings and exhibits. A 40-acre tract was set apart by the World's Fair managers, where a thousand natives (some with families) will live and show the world what Filipino life really is. Nine buildings and structures on the reservation, one building, 150x150 feet, with steam-heating apparatus. Fifty car loads of freight, direct from the Philippine Islands.

PORTO RICO.—The new West Indian possession of "Uncle Sam" will spend $50,000 in showing her new relatives her wealth in forestry and minerals, with her great agricultural resources.

RHODE ISLAND.—$70,000 subscribed and appropriated. Where Commissioner Kingsbury is treasuring an agreeable surprise. With her 2,200 factories she will make a big showing in cottons, woolens, rubber goods, engines and safes, jewelry and silverware.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—$130,000 appropriated. The State ranks first in shrimp fisheries, and her exhibit at the Charleston Exposition will be moved to the World's Fair and will be greatly enlarged.

SOUTH DAKOTA.—$35,000 for building and exhibits. The State's corn palace, the only building of that character at the World's Fair, will overlook the steepest banks of the "Gulch." Agriculture and gold mine exhibits will be grand.

TENNESSEE.—Is proud of the $140,000 she has raised to show her great resources to World's Fair visitors. She is rich in minerals, in agriculture, in live stock, cotton, corn, wheat and fruit.

TEXAS.—Has its beautiful and peculiar five-pointed structure (a revelation in the architects' art). An immense dome, 145 feet high, surmounts the center, an exact reproduction of the dome over the State Capital at Austin. $200,000 for exhibits. R. H. Sexton, a native of Texas, will represent World's Fair Commission in St. Louis.

UTAH.—With her $50,000 is having a beautiful pavilion, with a miniature gold mine exhibit. In agriculture and horticulture she will be well represented.

"UNCLE SAM'S" BIRD CAGE.—Containing 2,000 feathered songsters, stands near the Ohio building, on the eastern side of the grounds, and will attract much attention.

VIRGINIA.—With her $100,000 will reproduce at the World's Fair, "Monticello," the home of Thomas Jefferson, under whose administration the Louisiana Purchase was made, a replica of the classic building at Charlottsville, Va.

WASHINGTON.—An immense five-story log house overlooks the Government Building from the south. Her $85,000 for beautiful building and artistic scenery displays will be very interesting from the great Northwestern State.

WEST VIRGINIA.—With her $75,000 will have its classic Greek structure, and will draw on her coal fields, petroleum wells, rich forests and fertile lands for a splendid exhibit.

WISCONSIN.—Is spending $1000,000 for her cozy English Cottage, with exquisite appointments for the entertainment of visitors, and is making an interesting display, showing the richness of her soil, her delightful and valuable fresh water fisheries and her vast pine forests.

WASHINGTON CITY, D. C.—The Nation's Capital will make a distinctive and interesting exhibit apart from the National Government.

WYOMING.—With her $25,000 will exhibit her vast resources in fruits of different kinds, cattle and sheep, cereals and grasses, coal, copper, onyx, marble, soda, etc.

The sisterhood of States has gone in Mansion Building. Never before had the States such a gathering at any exposition, and perhaps never will again during the Twentieth Century. Fifty-one States and Territories erect their imposing reception halls in the woodland at the World's Greatest Fair.

THE CITY OF ST. LOUIS.

St. Louis is the fourth manufacturing city in the United States as well as the fourth in populaiton, having 750,000 people, and the chief city of the Mississippi Valley. It is the chief commercial and financial center for the people of twenty States. Here are 8,000 factories and two of the largest tobacco factories of the world, the greatest shoe manufactories, the largest brick works, lead works, cracker factories, breweries, iron-rail factory, stove and range works, largest tinware and stamping plant, and the largest street-car factories in the world.

The wholesale and jobbing trade is no less formidable in its proportions.

Two of the largest hardware houses in the world, the largest drug house, woodenware, carpet houses, etc. Twenty-four lines of railways have terminals here, and with the Mississippi River steamers transport the vast commerce that spreads over a score of States. The city's manufacturing products last year were sold for $400,000,000.

The city last year sold more dry goods than anything else, worth $60,000,000; next was foot wear, worth $40,000,000; next hardware, worth $35,000,000. Annual sale in drugs amounted to $40,000,000; tobacco, $26,000,000; beer, $18,000,000; railway cars manufactured here, $15,000,000, and wooden ware, $10,000,000.

The railways developing the country tributary to St. Louis are building more lines of new road than is being built in all the rest of the United States put together. Last year over half of the new railway building in this country was done in the commercial territory of St. Louis. These railways and the steamboat lines carrying freight for St. Louis handled 30,000,000 tons of freight, coming into and going out of the city last year.

The city covers 63 square miles, or 40,000 acres within her limits. The frontage of the Mississippi is 20 miles, and one street (Broadway) is over 18 miles long.

ST. LOUIS UNION STATION.—At 18th and Market, is one of the largest and finest in the world, covering over 11 acres. North frontage is 606 feet, and the train shed 700 feet long. Contains 32 tracks. The clock tower is 232 feet high. Cost $6,500,000, and is used by 24 lines of railways. The glass-roofed hall in front of the gates will hold 30,000 people.

THE ST. LOUIS (EADS) BRIDGE.—At 3rd and Washington, is a two-story structure, the lower story having a double track steam railway and the deck is a highway 75 feet wide. The bridge is 6,220 feet long, and the total distance, west end of tunnel to Relay Depot, East St. Louis, is 10,537 feet. Total cost of bridge, including tunnel and approaches, $10,000,000.

MERCHANTS' BRIDGE.—Length of bridge proper, 522 feet; total length of bridge and approaches, 10,764 feet. Total cost of bridge and approaches, $2,000,000.

MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE OF ST. LOUIS.—4th and Pine. Was organized in 1836 as the Chamber of Commerce and remained under this head until 1862, when it was succeeded by its present title, Merchants' Exchange. It is the oldest trading organization in the country, and fittingly represents the financial solidity and commercial supremacy of St. Louis. Length of hall 221½ feeet, breadth 92 feet, height 80 feet. Cost $2,000,000.

NATIONAL STOCK YARDS.—The largest stock market in the world; is located adjoining the city of East St. Louis. Ill. Thirty-four commission houses, together with the purchases made by packers, transact an aggregate of $100,000,000 worth of business annually. The buildings, pens, alleys, etc., cover an area of 676 acres, the greater part of which is paved with vitrified brick.

STREETS AND AVENUES.

Their Names, Location, Ssystem of Numbering and the Most Convenient Way for Reaching Any Number on Any Street.

EXPLANATION.

On all streets running west from the Mississippi River the houses fronting on these streets are numbered from the river west to city limits, odd numbers on the north side and even on the south side of each street. Generally 100 house numbers are allotted to each block. By this arrangement the house numbers in each block indicate the number of blocks they are from the river; thus, Twelfth street is 1200 west, twelve blocks from the river; Jefferson avenue is 2600 west; Grand avenue is 3600 west; King's Highway is 5000 west; World's Fair is 6000 west (about six miles); they are twenty-six, thirty-six, fifty and sixty blocks, respectively, from the river. If you divide the house nuuber by 100 the result will, as a general rule, give the number of blocks you are from the river. Having ascertained this, subtract it from sixty and it will give you the number of blocks you are east of the World's Fair.

For streets running north and south, Market street or Laclede avenue is the center or dividing line for house numbering. Market street extends from tne Wharf, westwardly to 2700, Laclede avenue being a continuation of Market street, from 2700 westwardly to King's Highway, and would be near the center line of the World's Fair. North of the dividing line houses number northwardly, south of the dividing line southwardly, odd numbers on the west and even on the east side of the streets; thus, Chouteau avenue is 1000 south, ten blocks; Park avenue is 1500 south, fifteen blocks south of the dividing line. Washington avenue is 600 north, six blocks; Franklin avenue is 900 north, nine blocks. To ascertain the number of blocks from the center line of the World's Fair of any house number on a north and south street, apply rule given above for ascertaining number of blocks west of the river, etc.

Following the description of the street location is the name of the car line that runs closest to the numbers given, each street being divided into a sufficient number of sections to enable one to reach any desired number in the most direct manner possible. When "Sub. Line" is not specified it is understood that the car referred to is a Transit Company line.
